VEGETINE

Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.

VEGETINE

Is not a vile, nauseous compound, which simply purges the bowels, but a safe, pleasant remedy which is sure to purify the blood, and thereby restore the health.

VEGETINE

Is now prescribed in cases of Scrofula and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE

Does not deceive invalids into false hopes by purging and creating a factitious appetite, but assists nature in clearing and purifying the whole system, leading the patient gradually to perfect health.

VEGETINE

Was looked upon as an experiment for some time by some of our best physicians, but those most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

VEGETINE,

Says a Boston physician, 'has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots, and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE

Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praises who have been restored to health.

PROOF.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—About one year since, I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article, and after using several bottles, was restored to health and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health. Respectfully yours,

O. L. PETTINGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettingill & Co., 10 State St., Boston.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE furnished me by your agent, my wife has used with great benefit.

For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and weakness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEGETINE.

She was also troubled with Dyspepsia and General Debility, and has been greatly benefitted.

THOS. GILMORE, 229½ Walnut street.

Feel Myself a New Man.

NATICK, Mass., June 1, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—Through the advice and earnest persuasion of Rev. E. S. Best, of this place, I have been taking VEGETINE for Dyspepsia, of which I have suffered for years.

I have used only two bottles and already feel myself a new man. Respectfully,

DR. J. W. CARTER.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, Jan. 1, 1874.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have sold at retail 1543 dozen (1852 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of Scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity.

Very respectfully yours,
AI GILMAN, 103 Broadway.

To H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1877.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The President on Louisiana Affairs.

STANLEY MATTHEWS' NOMINATION AS SENATOR.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS PROBABLE.

The Louisiana Question.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

The president today intimated to friends of Packard that any statements to the effect that he would withdraw the troops after the adjournment of the Senate are premature, as he is not yet assured that that would be a judicious course in the present attitude of the two parties in that state.

He reiterated his previous statement that he would "make haste slowly" in hopes of reaching a point of adjustment upon which

All Parties Can Agree.

He does not intend to countenance solely the wishes of the carpet-bag influence, nor does he propose to concede all the democrats ask. The latter, however, already show some temper in their failure to induce him to make a complete and immediate surrender to their views.

The New Ohio Senator.

It is ascertained this morning that the nomination of Stanley Matthews was effected through the direct interposition of the president. His election, though gratifying to all, has at least the drawback of surrender of the contest for Banning's seat in the house, which it is thought he would have secured.

The Extra Session.

The president stated today, in answer to some inquiries of senators, that he would determine in a few days as to calling an extra session of congress. It is now conceded on all sides that such a step is unavoidable. It is now only a question as to the time of holding it.

Opposition to Fred. Douglass.

President Hayes's movement toward obliterating the color line by the appointment of Frederick Douglass to be marshal of this district has aroused the ire of the old blue bottle democrats who practice at the bars of the courts and the neighboring restaurants. They are using every effort to secure the rejection of his nomination, and those southern senators who in asking the president for offices have assured him of their desire to see the colored race justly treated will now have an opportunity to demonstrate their sincerity.

Southern Feeling upon Fred. Douglass's Appointment.

Gov. Warmouth, who has just arrived from New Orleans, says that if Fred Douglass is not confirmed there will not be a colored member in the Nicholls legislature one day after the news reaches there, and that Douglass's rejection will have a bad effect upon Hayes's southern policy.

The Adjournment of the Senate at Hand.

At two o'clock the president sent a message to the senate saying that he had no further communication to make at this session. An effort will be made to dispose of all the nominations today, but it will require unanimous consent. If this is obtained, a final adjournment will probably take place tonight.

The President's Final Batch of Nominations.

The president transmitted with his message to the Senate, about one hundred nominations, a majority being for minor offices. The most important ones were Fred W. Seward, to be assistant secretary of state; James N. Tyner, first assistant postmaster-general; Thomas L. James, postmaster at New York, and N. D. Sperry, postmaster at New Haven, Ct.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

Professor Bartlett Accepts the Presidency.

HANOVER, N. H., March 16.

News was this morning received from Prof. Samuel C. Bartlett that he accepts the presidency of Dartmouth College, notwithstanding the strong efforts of the Northwest and those interested in the Chicago Theological Seminary, of which he is the head, to retain him. He will remove to Hanover, and be inaugurated about the middle of May. This decision, which has been anxiously awaited for weeks, is received with great satisfaction by the faculty and students.

Boiler Explosion at Worthington, Ill.

CINCINNATI, March 16.

The Commercial's Worthington, Ind., special says a boiler in Hunter Brothers' saw mill, exploded this afternoon, instantly killing two of the Hunter brothers, two brothers named Bender and one name unknown. Several others are reported dangerously wounded.

BY CABLE.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Fresh Intrigues Feared.

LONDON, March 16.

The Post thinks a renewal of the troubles in Bosnia and the stubbornness of Montenegro indicate fresh foreign intrigues and militate against peace prospects.

A dispatch from Belgrade to the Times says: "An officer stationed near Novi Bazar, reports that the Turkish forces in that portion of the Empire consist principally of redifs, poorly clad, and generally destitute of underclothing. The rations are bad, and frequently fail altogether."

Excitement at Constantinople.

The Times' Paris dispatch says: "Great agitation unquestionably prevails at Constantinople. The recall of Midhat Pasha and war with Russia, seem dominant among the confused demands of the populace. Grave complications are apprehended."

The Cabinet Opposition to Bismarck.

A dispatch to the Times from Berlin says: "In each of Prince Bismarck's recent important speeches in the Reichstag, he declared that health was giving way under the exertions to which he was compelled in a great measure, by needless antagonism. To prove how insufficiently he is supported by the international ministers, he cited a case in which General Von Stosch, chief of the admiralty last session, forced on him a long and intricate correspondence about the admiralty estimates that he (Bismarck) desired reduced, but when the estimates came up in the Reichstag, General Von Stosch made reductions on the demand of liberal members without discussion. In consequence of Prince Bismarck reviewing this incident, General Von Stosch has resigned. The emperor has not accepted his resignation."

Montenegrin Troops Ordered Forward.

It is said that Austria has ordered general amnesty to subjects who joined the insurgents in Turkey.

It is reported that the prince of Montenegro has ordered troops sent to the frontier by Sunday.

THE MURDER OF CHINAMEN IN CALIFORNIA.

Public Feeling Aroused.—Another Phase of the Race Conflict.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.

There is increased excitement at Chico over the massacre of Chinese, Wednesday night. A public meeting was held today, largely attended by the most influential citizens. A resolution was passed deprecating the crime committed, and pledging the citizens to use all means to bring the perpetrators to justice. A committee was appointed to further that end. The excitement is intensified by the discovery of a placard on the office door of what is known as the Keefe Ranche, cautioning the proprietor against employing Chinese, on peril of the destruction of his property. Gardeners in the vicinity have had notices printed, warning all persons about approaching their premises after dark, as they will be in danger from guards posted for their own protection. A deputation of Chinamen started for San Francisco to procure from the Chinese companies a thousand dollars, to be offered as a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the murderers.

It has been asserted that the recent outrages on the Chinese in the vicinity had been prompted by the action of the Sierra Flume company, in disparaging whites and employing Chinese in their places, but the company state that no white men have been discharged in the last two months, and no extra Chinese employed. A strong disposition is evinced to hold the order of Caucassians at least morally responsible for the outrage, though the members of the order strenuously deny any such responsibility, and assert their willingness to assist in the apprehension of the criminals.

The job of clearing the land on which the murdered Chinamen were engaged has been offered to whites at $4 per acre more than the Chinamen demanded, but was declined.

Outlawry in Indian Territory.

ST. LOUIS, March 16.

Advices from Indian Territory say a condition of anarchy exists in and around Caddo, that part of the country being under control of a band of desperadoes. The day before yesterday a party of half-breed Indians from the country went into Caddo, and being joined by half a dozen men of the town, attacked a freight train on the track of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, under the impression that several detectives were abroad of it, sent to arrest them. A fight ensued between the ruffians and train men. An ex-marshal, named Donnelly, was shot four times and killed. Subsequently the outlaws raided through the town, firing their revolvers. They drove all the citizens into their houses, and kept the whole place in terror for ten or twelve hours.

FROM NEW YORK.

Return of Peter B. Sweeney.

NEW YORK, March 16.

Peter B. Sweeney, one of the ring thieves of this city, returned yesterday by steamer from Europe, under supposed pledges of immunity if restitution and needed information be given. He is kept secluded.

Court Martial of General Reno.

It is stated that General Reno is on trial by court martial at St. Paul for making improper proposals to, and slandering the wife of Major Bell. General Hazen is president of the court martial. If the charge is proven it will result in the dismissal of Reno from the army. He is a widower.

NEW YORK, March 16.

A Scranton dispatch says a crisis has evidently been reached in labor matters there and vicinity, and the climax is anxiously awaited. The mayor yesterday pledged his best efforts in behalf of the suffering workingmen. The latter number at least one thousand, nearly all with families on the verge of actual starvation. Mr. Kline, Chairman of the workingmen's meeting, says the men are growing impatient, and nothing but prompt relief will restrain them from riot and plunder. It is a difficult matter to pacify the most desperate of their number, who have been driven almost to madness by the wails of their wives and children crying for bread.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Decline in Railway Stocks.

NEW YORK, March 16.

Wall street, 12 M. Stocks opened heavy and there was a general feeling prevailing that prices for railway shares would fall down yet considerably. Foreign advices representing unusual depression in this class of American securities abroad cause considerable apprehension and alarm among stock and bond holders.

Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, @ 10 per cent. paying security, which only very recently declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent., declined to 96⅞ this morning. Rock Island on the opening declined to 100⅜, and New York Central to 94½. Erie declined to 6⅞ and Western Union declined to 63¾.

Lake Shore was rather firmer, owing to covering short contracts and reports from the west of advance of freight and passenger rates. Morris & Essex fell from 88 to 81½.

The Coal Road Shares

were quiet and rather firm under the impression that the production of coal would probably be lessened by strikes in the mining regions.

An Ice Gorge in the Missouri.

OMAHA, March 16.

The Missouri river is full of floating ice, the result of the recent cool snap, and an immense ice gorge is formed in the Big Bend, causing the stream to overflow the bottom on the Iowa side for over a quarter of a mile opposite the smelting works. The water pours down over the Iowa bank into the main channel, forming a series of falls from four to six feet high and over two hundred in number. At one place at the southern point the fall is forty to fifty feet wide and about six feet high. This cut-off is what has been expected for several years, and it was thought that when it did occur would form a new channel.

A STEAMER BURNED ON THE ARKANSAS RIVER.

Four Lives Lost and 950 Bales of Cotton Burned.

MEMPHIS, March 16.

Steamer Governor Gayland, from Pine Bluff for Memphis, was burned yesterday at Red Fork, forty miles from the mouth of Arkansas river. Three deck hand one cabin passenger, and all the books and cargo, were lost. The Garland had 650 bales of cotton, mostly for New Orleans, and is believed to be insured. The boat was only a year old, and cost $25,000.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION AT PROVIDENCE.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, March 16.

The senate re-assembled at eleven o'clock, His Excellency Governor Lippitt in the chair.

The chair ruled that the only business properly before the senate was the mortgage act from yesterday, and that act was accordingly taken up.

On motion of Mr. Slocum, it was considered by sections.

Messrs. Brayton, Slocum, Chace, Verry, Cross, Lapham and others discussed it which resulted in nothing but postponing the whole subject until the various substitutes and amendments can be printed.

The petition of R. S. Andrews and others, for return of cases to Bristol county for trial, was taken up and read.

Mr. Slocum objected that the report of the committee on the judiciary recommending indefinite postponement, must be first disposed of.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The house met at 11 o'clock, Speaker Aldrich in the chair.

Mr. Dixon reported from the judiciary committee the following acts :

An act providing that if any person wilfully send to a newspaper for publication a fraudulent notice of a birth, death or marriage he shall be fined not exceeding $100. The act was passed.

An act providing that Justices of Justice Courts shall make returns to the State Auditor four times a year, instead of once, as now. The act was passed.

Mr. Fay of Newport, called up the bill concerning the school committee of Providence. He afterwards withdrew his call, and the bill was made the special order of the day for Tuesday next, at 11:30 A. M.

Mr. Dixon, of Westerly, presented the petition of the Rhode Island Society for the Encouragement of Domestic Industry for appropriations for agricultural societies. Referred to the committee on agriculture. The petition asks for an appropriation of $1,000 for the R. I. Society for the Encouragement of Domestic Industry to aid it in holding a fair, &c., and $300 to the Woonsocket Agricultural Society, Washington County Agricultural Society, Aquidneck Agricultural Society, and $300 to the R. I. Horticultural Society, the said sums to be distributed as premiums at the fairs which said societies may hold.

Mr. Littlefield, from the committee on accounts, reported the bill of F. A. Pratt against the state, for services on the State House and Jail at Newport, and at the soldiers' cemetery at Dutch Island, amounting to $82.50. The bill was ordered paid.

AGRICULTURAL.

"AGRICULTURAL" NOTES FOR MARCH.

VARIOUS ORCHARD MATTERS.—Cut clons before the buds swell.....Do not graft until the buds begin to swell.....Necessary pruning should be done before vegetation starts.....Washing the trunks of trees is best done in a damp spell; scrape if need be.....Soft soap thinned with water to work well with a brush, we prefer to lye or solution of soda or potash. Apply thoroughly to the trunk and larger branches, and leave the rains to do the rest.

WALKS AND ROADS.—Lay out and make all new ones needed, and only such as are needed, as soon as the season will allow. Gravel, broken stones on a foundation of "cobble" and other stones, are the best materials for good, dry, durable walks and drives; their first cost is more, but they will last, and will require only slight repairs; the soil should be removed to a depth of two to three feet at least, to get a permanent foundation that frost will not affect.

CULTIVATION OF PEAS FOR FAMILY USE.—Dig trenches in a warm, sheltered location, soon after the frost leaves the ground, about one and a half feet wide and three apart; fill the bottom with old compost and cover the manure with loam, upon which sow the peas very thickly and cover them six inches deep. After the first weeding, insert in the ground a row of sticks on each side of the trenches or rows, so that the tops of the sticks shall be at least five feet above the surface of the ground.

The advantages of this mode of cultivation are, that this vegetable comes up strong and vigorous, is not preyed upon by fowls and pigeons, is not so easily pulled up, is not so much affected by the drought of summer, is more prolific, and furnishes peas for a longer season, or about three weeks.

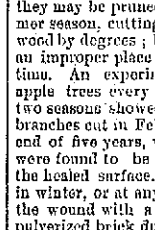

WHEN TO PRUNE FRUIT TREES.—Long experience, writes J. B. Miner to the Rural New Yorker, shows that when it is desirable to produce a free growth of shoots and leaves pruning should be done when the trees are dormant, as in the winter season or early in the spring, before the sap begins to flow. When fruit trees appear to grow too rapidly and produce too much wood they may be pruned moderately in the summer season, cutting away a portion of the wood by degrees; but a shoot growing in an improper place may be cut away at any time. An experiment made by pruning apple trees every month in the year for two seasons showed that the wounds of the branches cut in February and March, at the end of five years, when all had healed over, were found to be the least decayed under the healed surface. When trees are pruned in winter, or at any time, it is best to cover the wound with a hot mixture of tar and pulverized brick dust or fine sand. A solution of shellac in alcohol, as thick as can be easily applied with a brush, is considered by many to the best preparation that can be applied.

During the mild days of winter orchards may be pruned, while little else can be done: but good judgment should be exercised in selecting the branches to be cut away. It is ruinous to an orchard to cut and slash away one third and one half of the limbs. All that should be done is to give the tree a good shape, and only cut away such limbs as are plainly in excess of the natural requirements of the tree, to conform to the extent of its roses. If we take away too much of a top of a tree, it is like taking blood from a man, the more that is taken the less vitality there is in him, therefore in pruning, only a few unsightly branches, and those unproperly situated, should be cut away.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE, OF THE CITY OF NEWPORT, HELD MONDAY, MARCH 5th, 1877,

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman,

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies, and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains more reading matter than any other paper in the southern part of the state.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, to carrier.

The Newport Journal, $2 per annum, or $1.50 if the whole year is paid for strictly in advance.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

For New England, falling barometer, increasing easterly to northerly winds and stormy weather, with snow, followed by rising barometer, northwesterly winds and partially cloudy weather.

THE DAY.

Chamberlain says the idea of another election is entirely new to him.

Anarchy is in full sway in Indian territory, according to the telegraphic news.

Rumor has it that negotiations are in progress to compromise the ring suits and set the immaculate Tweed at liberty once more.

Jones, the democratic candidate for the New Hampshire senatorship, has between forty-five and fifty plurality out of over 27,000 votes.

The United States Senate has confirmed the nominations of Tyner, Seward and Postmaster James. They will probably take a sine die adjournment today.

Bogardus broke 1000 glass balls in one hour, 42 minutes and 50 seconds, in New York last night. The balls were sprung out of a patent trap and Bogardus stood eighteen yards from the trap. He fired at 1136 balls and broke 1002.

The verdict of the jury of inquest on the panic in the Church of St. Francis Xavier in New York was rendered yesterday afternoon as follows:—

"We find that Margaret Kelly and others came to their death during a panic on the stairs of the western gallery of St. Francis Xavier Church, on the night of March 8th, 1877. We further recommend that the police department shall furnish officer or officers to attend at all the churches of the city during divine service whenever requested to do so by the pastor of the church or other authorities. We consider the construction of the church and the means of exit entirely safe."

The London Times earnestly urges English manufacturers to combine for a comprehensive display at the Paris Exhibition, next year, and remarks that it is incumbent on them to show the world that they have not fallen behind the position they once occupied. The competition at Philadelphia, the Times declares, was not altogether satisfactory to English manufacturers, and the products of the United States surpassed those of England oftener than can be explained by the mere advantage of proximity.

OBSTACLES TO THE REVIVAL OF BUSINESS.

The two great obstacles in the way of reviving business are high rates of interest and high taxes. A great proportion of the business of the country is done on credit, and extravagant rates make it impossible to carry on trade and manufacturing with profit. The evil is just as great when the business man owns his own capital which would command a larger income when on deposit or invested in bonds than in factories or merchandise. Those who are looking for the return of good times may rest assured that they will not come until money rates rule lower than they have in the past. The evil will eventually cure itself; for as men find they cannot do business profitably they will cease to borrow, and the capitalists will thus be brought to terms. The savings banks are just now doing more to keep up the rates than any other class and the business of the country waits their motion in large part.

As to high taxes we have only to consider a few facts in order to come to right conclusions. Take for instance the city of New York, as our chief business mart and as exerting an influence on the whole country. In that city the annual taxation is $33,000,000 and the city debt is $160,000,000. The debt amounts to $133 to "each man, woman and child of population," and the annual taxation is $27.50 per head. A recent report shows that last year the city paid out for salaries to officials and employes the immense sum of $11,000,000; and Mr. John Kelly, the present city comptroller, recently reported to the mayor that it would be impossible to reduce this aggregate to any considerable extent. As matters are going, it is impossible to look for any healthy revival of business in the metropolis.

With this state of things, young men, who are always the life of trade, have little encouragement to proceed. High rates of interest and high taxes stare them in the face and keep them back. The capitalist also suffers. Rents are low, for property thus taxed cannot retain its value, and the incomes of the wealthy are sensibly diminished. It only remains to apply the remedy which is within reach, and until that remedy is applied there will be no return to substantial and abiding prosperity.

RELIGIOUS.

A revival of extraordinary interest is progressing in the Indiana Asbury University. Fifty of the students have professed conversion.

Dr. R. M. Hatfield, of the Arch-street Church, Philadelphia, has resigned his charge for the purpose of taking rest which his health demanded.

Entering the house of one of his congregation, Rowland Hill saw a child upon a rocking horse. "Dear me," exclaimed the aged minister, "How wondrously like some Christians! there is motion, but no progress."

Bishop Haven, who went to Africa to look after the interests of the mission of the M. E. church there, is on his way home, which he hopes to reach some time in April.

The great revival in Stamford, Conn., has resulted in one hundred and ten conversions reported, and one hundred accessions to the Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Dr. Buckley is the pastor.

England and Wales have 2,513 Congregational churches, Scotland 104, France 84, Switzerland 94, Turkey 84, India 167, China 58, Madagascar 666, etc. The entire number in Europe is 2,884; in Asia, 308; Africa, 734; Australia, 163; Polynesia, 108; which added to North America 3,597, and South America 20, make a grand total of 7,819. The average number of members in all countries appears to be 100 to each church; which would give in round numbers nearly 8000 churches and 800,000 members in the world.

There is a deepening interest at Tremont Temple. Dr. Lorimer has never thrown himself more thoroughly into his work, and never with more hopeful results. The last two Sabbath evenings the prayer meetings have been held in the main auditorium, and floor, galleries and platform have been crowded. On each occasion fifty or more rose for prayers. At the close a meeting followed in the Meionaon for more personal work,—the pastor assigning his helpers to particular cases.

Mr. Moody's services in Boston are attended by large crowds, but their influence is not yet as thoroughly pervasive in Boston as in Chicago. The Zion's Herald, which is in sympathy with Mr. Moody, says: "The work has not reached the point of creating a serious atmosphere throughout the city, interrupting in anywise the general tide of worldliness or the hurry of secular business, as during the great revival of 1857, and as was said to be apparent during the last weeks of the services in Chicago."

MISSIONARY WORK.

Bishop Andrews, who is visiting the Methodist foreign missions on a tour around the world, baptized fifty adults recently at Amrosha, India.

The First Protestant Church in the Turkish Empire was organized at Constantinople in 1846; now there are more than a hundred such churches.

A German writer in the "Allgemeine missions-Zeitschrift" expresses the opinion that missionaries have given too much time and strength to the study of Hindoo mythology and the disclosure of its contradictions. He remarks that many works have been written by missionaries on these subjects so thorough and profound that they are read by the heathen with the single object of becoming properly informed in their own mythology. There does not seem to be much ground, therefore, for the charge sometimes made against missionaries, that they fail to understand the moral and religious systems of India!

Education is making great progress in Madagascar. One missionary writes of examining 238 schools. Three-fourths of the expense of all the schools is borne by the people.

The mission to the Friendly Islands has ceased to be a charge, and has become a contributor to the treasury of the Wesleyan Missionary Society, to the amount of from $5,000 to $10,000 a year,—a larger sum of money probably than had ever been seen in the entire group before the introduction of Christianity. The gospel furnishes at once the impulse and the motive to industry and social progress.

THE MAGAZINES.

The North American Review for March and April is a very attractive number. In its table of contents we find the following:

"The Electoral Commission and its Bearings," a temperate and well considered discussion of the question just now most vital in American politics, by Ex-U. S. Senator Charles R. Buckalew.

"Demonology" is a characteristic essay on dreams, ghosts, mesmerism and other like topics, by Ralph Waldo Emerson.

"William Henry Seward," by Richard Grant White.

"English Arctic Explorations" comprises a clear account of the latest English expedition, by Chief Justice Daly, of New York, president of the American Geographical Society. A fine circumpolar map adds much to the interest and value of this paper.

"Poetry and Verse Making," by Charles T. Congdon.

"The Insurance Crisis," by Sheppard Homans, is an important paper on the principles and methods of "Life Insurance," a subject that just now interests the public.

"Centenary of Spinoza," by Rev. Dr. Samuel Osgood.

"The Silver Question" is another peculiarly timely topic, treated in a masterly way by J. S. Moor.

The chapter of Contemporary Literature contains judicious notes of several new books.

There are very few intelligent people who cannot find in this number of the North American Review something to interest them. The importance and timeliness of many of the articles are quite noteworthy.

The Review can be obtained (at $1 a number, or $5 a year [6 numbers]) of booksellers and newsdealers.

James R. Osgood & Co., Publishers, Boston.

The Galaxy opens its April number with a clever article by Henry James, Jr., on the French drama and the most noted actors of Paris, whose impersonations are brought to such perfection as is not found on any other stage.

Mr. Charles Wyllys Elliott contributes an article upon the hard times and cheap labor question, which he deals with in a manner somewhat sarcastic and not altogether comforting.

Mr. Richard Grant White borrows a title from Ralph Waldo Emerson, and pictures "English Traits" as he observed them during his recent visit to Great Britain.

"On Being Born Away from Home" is the somewhat unpromising title of a curious article by Dr Titus Munson Coan, in which he calls attention to the frequent instances of the migratory instinct one finds in looking over the list of the gifted minds noted in history.

Mr. J. L. M. Curry contributes a thoughtful article upon the needs and prospects of the unhappy south from the point of view of a loyal and earnest southern citizen. The value of such an article cannot be overlooked.

There are capital short stories by Louise Stockton and Constance Fenimore Woolson, and some poems of merit by F. W. Bourdillon, Sylvester Baxter, and Margaret J. Preston, "the poet laureate of the south," after which come the usual departments of science, literature, and current gossip.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The sleighs are out today.

—The Knights of St. Patrick did not parade today.

—President Miller of the Wickford line is in town today.

—Carry Brothers propose making some improvements in their fruit store.

—Arther Jameson cut the end of his thumb off yesterday with a butcher's cleaver.

—The Knights of St. Patrick have a special meeting at their hall tomorrow evening.

—Daniel Watson, real estate agent, has moved to the second story of the Bateman building.

—The Old Colony went out about an hour late last night. The Newport arrived at 11 o'clock this morning having put into New London on account of the storm.

—Sergeant Flynn and Officer Denman arrested Martin Phelps last evening on Bath road on complaint of his wife for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

—We learn that several of the elegant new costumes recently purchased by Prof. Senger as an addition to his "Queen Esther" wardrobe are to make their appearance in the masquerade ball, April 5th. The professor's wardrobe numbers about two hundred suits; enough, one would suppose, to show up quite a variety of Oriental fashions.

Col. Sellers at the Opera House.—A large and appreciative audience greeted the first appearance in this city of Mr. John T. Raymond, in his special character of Col. Mulberry Sellers in Mark Twain's drama of The Gilded Age, at the Opera House last evening. The acting of the two Waldrons, and in fact of the whole company, was highly appreciated, and although the play seemed to end rather abruptly in the midst of a court scene, leaving the spectator rather perplexed and obliging him to draw largely upon his imagination as to the final disposition of the principal characters, take it all in all the play was well received. Although the plot of the play is by no means a deep one, the actors were well up in their parts and put the audience at ease by the manner in which the play was put upon the stage.

If you own a Spitz dog you mustn't let your judgment be warped by what the papers say. Let him bite you, and then wait for results.—[Detroit Free Press.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

PARADE OF THE ANCIENT ORDER.—LINE OF MARCH.—FINE APPEARANCE OF THE PROCESSION.

As usual St. Patrick's day dawned any thing but pleasant. The walking was wretched, but notwithstanding this unpleasant feature, our Catholic friends attended service at St. Mary's Church at mass in the morning in large numbers. The Rev. Father Grace officiated.

At about noon the Ancient Order of Hibernians, No. 1, of this city and Division No. 15, of the state, under the marshalship of Michael Burns, S. M. Horgan, the county delegate, being unavoidably absent from the city, started on their parade.

The line formed on Thames street in front of their hall in Hidler's building and moved in the following order:—

Platoon of Police,
Messrs. Steel and Garnett.
1st. U. S. Artillery Band, 20 pieces, Prof. K. Price, Leader.
Ancient Order of Hibernians Division No. 1, of Newport and Division No. 15 of this state, under the marshalship of Michael Burns, 67 men.

Barouche drawn by four horses containing the following officers of the society:—Michael Butler, president; Daniel S. Galvin, vice-president; Thomas Brady, financial secretary; J. J. Byrnes, recording secretary.

The line of march was down Thames street to Lee avenue, up Lee avenue to Spring street, through Spring street to William street, up William street to Bellevue avenue, up Bellevue avenue to Kay street, through Kay to Mann avenue, down Mann avenue to Broadway, down Broadway to the Parade at which place the line came to a halt and were reviewed by his honor the mayor and the board of aldermen and councilmen after which it marched down the Parade to Thames street and down Thames street to the Hall, where the procession was disbanded.

The order carried the elegant silk flag which was presented to it last St. Patrick's day by the ladies of Newport. They also carried the Irish flag and they hope that before they parade again they will be in possession of one belonging to the order of which they form a part.

The men looked well in their showy regalias and attracted no little attention along the route of march. The music by the band was excellent and several airs peculiar to the day were played.

KNIGHTS OF ST. PATRICK'S BALL.

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL OF KNIGHTS OF ST. PATRICK.—LARGE NUMBER PRESENT.—THE HALL HUNG WITH FLAGS.

Council No. 6 Knights of St. Patrick, of this city, held their sixth anniversary ball last evening at the Aquidneck Assembly Rooms. As is usual in the entertainments of this society, everything was constructed in an orderly manner, and nothing occurred to mar the festivities of the occasion save a slight disturbance caused by a lad who was determined to make himself known. Officer Dring promptly took him from the hall and his entrance fee was returned to him.

The hall was tastefully decorated with flags of all kinds and the ceiling was hung with streamers of small flags. Over the balcony where the orchestra was located the Irish and American flags waved side by side, symbolical of Ireland's allegiance to her best friend.

The gallery was reserved for spectators, of whom there were quite a number present, including many of our prominent citizens. Here an excellent view could be obtained of the festive scene below where no less than fifty couples were engaged in the dance at a time.

The ladies were all elegantly dressed and some of the toilettes were unusually fine. All seemed to enjoy the festivities of the evening despite the snow storm without which had prevented many from putting in an appearance, and each vied with the other to make the entertainment a social success. In this they succeeded.

The following programme was faithfully carried out and it was morning before the last dance was over and the merry company had departed:—

ORDER OF DANCES.

1. Grand March and Quadrille.
2. Quadrille.
3. Lanciers.
4. Polka.
5. Quadrille Star.
6. Virginia Reel.
7. Polka Schottische.

14. Cotillion.
15. Portland Fancy.
16. Quadrille, Shoofly.
17. Polka and Schottische.
18. Lanciers.
19. Cotillion.
20. Jig.

Much credit is due the committee of arrangements for their untiring exertions to please and to make all feel welcome. The committee consisted of John Lyons, the president of the society, John Malgan, Cornelius Twomey, Michael McCormick, M. F. Shea, John Martin, John Feeney and Michael McCarty. To the floor manager S. Buckley, is also credit due for the efficient manner in which he performed his duties assisted by his aids, D. W. Sheehan, P. M. Shea, A. Maher, E. Fitzpatrick, John Malgan and P. Nolan.

The reception committee which consisted of John Lyons, M. F. Shea, Thomas Galvin and Martin Costello understood their duties and performed them to the satisfaction of all present.

The music was furnished by the Newport orchestra, with Benjamin Davis of Bristol, as prompter, and was, of course, good.

Soon after midnight supper was served in the dining rooms of the Aquidneck House. It had been prepared under the immediate management of P. Nolan, The tables were heavily laden with the desired articles of food and were beautified by potted plants, which added much to the general appearance of the room. The supper, as well as the promptness with which all were waited upon, reflects credit upon Mr. Nolan and his assistants.

After supper dancing was resumed and the remainder of the programme was carried out.

The Knights of St. Patrick is a flourishing organization composed of some of the best element among our adopted citizens and their annual festivities are always well attended and the receipts are of a very satisfactory nature. Last evening was no exception to the rule.

OUR CITY GOVERNMENT.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.—SOME BLUSTER, BUT NOT MUCH BUSINESS DONE.—THE TWO BOARDS DO NOT CONCUR IN POLICE MATTERS.—A BEQUEST TO THE CITY.—REPORTS, PETITIONS, ETC.

At a special meeting of the city council, held last evening, the following business was transacted:

The report of the committee on police was read and received:—

To the Hon. City Council of the City of Newport:—

The committee on police would respectfully report:—That upon investigating the case of Officer Albro, we find that by Mr. Albro's statement he drank liquor but did so for the reason that he was sick at the time, and not intending to be subjected to its influence. In consideration of Mr. Albro's long and faithful service on the police force of this city and of the good character borne by and given him by his superior officers, besides being one of the most reliable officers, and trustworthy, your committee would recommend that he be continued.

James L. Weaver, Chairman.

The following resolution to dismiss Officer James G. Albro Jr., from the police was passed in the common council but nonconcurred in by the board of aldermen:

Resolved, That Officer James G. Albro, Jr., be, and he is hereby discharged from the police force.

The following communication from Albert Glover to the city treasurer of the city of Newport was read and accepted and his honor the mayor was requested to acknowledge the receipt of the same:

Boston, March 1st, 1877.

David M. Coggeshall Esq., City Treasurer, Newport, R. I.:—

Dear Sir—I have the pleasure to inform you that Mr. John E. Allston has left in his will the portrait of his late uncle William Sanford Rogers (by Jarvis) to the Rogers high school of Newport.

Yours truly,
Albert Glover.

66 Boylston street.

The petition of W. R. Proctor & Co., for a hotel license at 200 and 202 Thames street was granted.

The city treasurer's third quarterly report was read and referred to the committee on finance.

The petition of Hiram Murray and others for a lamp post on the corner of State street and DeBlois court was read and referred to the committee on gas and lamps.

The committee on gas and lamps reported favorably on the petition of John Cullen et al for a lamp post and lantern on Dennison street.

The following petition from Wm. J. Swinburne was read, received and referred to the committee on streets and highways with power to act:—

To the Hon. the City Council:—

The undersigned respectfully represents that he is greatly inconvenienced, and his health impaired, by the great stench arising from the Mary street sewer, which discharges its contents into the harbor at his wharf. This annoyance is so great, especially in hot weather, that on the occasion of the recent rains both your petitioner and his employes were driven out of his office.

He respectfully asks your honorable body to appoint a committee with power to act, to the end that the great nuisance referred to may be abated in some manner which may be satisfactory both to the city and your petitioner.

Wm. J. Swinburne.

There being no further business before the two boards the council adjourned until the next regular meeting.

☞ Dr. Guilford, at the Pelham street House, will give his professional services to those are unwilling to pay free of charge on Sunday from 1 to 8 P. M. The doctor for ten years past has made a specialty of chronic diseases of the throat, lungs, nerves, blood &c. He can refer to many cures made in Newport. Give him a call.

One of the most curious and original experiments of modern times will be made with the telephone at Steinway Hall, New York, on Monday evening, April 2, when an audience sitting in New York will be entertained by a number of artists singing in Philadelphia.

A Swede is preaching in the Swedish language to 2500 of his countrymen in Mr. Moody's church at Chicago, the sermons being literal translations of Mr. Moody's discourses in different parts of the country. The preacher was converted in Sweden, it is said, by reading Mr. Moody's sermons, and resembles Mr. Moody very closely in appearance. An edition of Mr. Moody's sermons has been published at Constantinople in the Armenian language, and a Spanish edition has also been discovered.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Clarendon Hotel in Boston is an excellent house and is conducted in the best manner. It is close to the Tabernacle and persons visiting the services of Moody and Sankey will find the Clarendon a pleasant and convenient house.

A RESULT OF OBSTRUCTED DIGESTION.

Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deteriorative condition of the vital fluid not only produces dangerous organical weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes causes asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimilation, is a wise precaution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, since it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregularities which interfere with the digestive processes, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent in an accession of vigor, a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.

GOOD ADVICE.

Now is the time of year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, &c. Every family should have a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Don't allow for one moment that cough to take hold of your child, your family or yourself. Consumption, Asthma, Pneumonia, Croup, Hemorrhages, and other fatal diseases may set in. Although it is true German Syrup is curing thousands of these dreaded diseases, yet it is much better to have it at hand when three doses will cure you. One bottle will last your whole family a winter and keep you safe from danger. If you are consumptive, do not rest until you have tried this remedy. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by your druggist, James H. Taylor.

I HAVE ON HAND and want to sell the following vehicles:

1 extra nice new Two Seated Sleigh made at Albany, lined with crimson plush, with both pole and shafts, just the sleigh to make a Christmas present, and be remembered at every snow storm. 2 second hand Two Seated Sleighs, with pole only. 1 Single Sleigh, second hand. 1 second hand Coupe Carryall in good order and just painted, good serviceable storm carriage and cheap. 1 Brewster Carryall. 1 C Spring Top Phaeton Buggy. 1 Brewster Top Buggy. 2 Phaeton Top Buggy. 1 Open Buggy. 1 Two Seated Open Wagon. 4 Express Wagons. 1 nice Dog Cart with reversible seat, pole and shafts, just the carriage to drive 4-in-hand to. 1 very nice new Box Top Buggy. 1 very nice new Basket Top Phaeton, will sell a great deal lower now than in the Spring—makes a good close buggy, or a nice summer carriage. 3 second hand Beach Wagons, cheap. 1 second hand Landau, cheap. 3 Barouches in good order and newly painted. 1 Victoria with pole and shafts, cheap if sold now. 1 Covered Wagon, will carry 8 people easy. 1 new Express Wagon, cheap as we are giving up selling express wagons. 1 new Road Wagon, just the thing for business or pleasure. 1 Sargent Top Phaeton Buggy, been used but little. 1 Phaeton Top Buggy, one year's use and that with care. 1 second hand Light Dog Cart with shafts. 1 second hand Drag with seat behind, just the thing for 6 horse team, newly painted and in good order, and several other carriages all of which I shall be glad to sell for cash or paper that will be paid at maturity.

I would say that through the kindness of my friends, I have disposed of about 100 different vehicles the past few years having sold carriages to go to Providence, R. I., Stonington, Ct., Little Rock, Arkansas, Middletown, Portsmouth, Riverton, Fall River, New Hampshire and various other places, all of which have proved as represented. To those having any House Painting, Graining or any other work, that they want done and are willing to pay a fair price to have the same done in a good and substantial manner, I shall be glad to give estimates, and will warrant all work done by me to be in every respect as represented. I return my thanks for the generous patronage which has been bestowed in the past and asked a continuance in the future. To my very numerous friends who have neglected to settle their bills for work done long ago,—if they will now respond by attending to them at once they will confer a great favor, as money is now very useful.

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1877.

Mr. Turvytop Sews on a Button.

Mr. Turvytop's coat had lost a button. Mrs. Turvytop was ill in bed, and must on no account be disturbed. Matilda was but a child and had never sewed on a button, but thought she could if papa would allow her to try.

But Mr. Turvytop was well aware that sewing on a button was no small matter—that to sew on a button—especially a coat-button—well, required judgment to say the least.

So Mr. Turvytop decided to sew on his own button, with a little of Matilda's assistance perhaps.

Now the first thing was to find a needle. That was easy enough, of course, for Mrs. Turvytop was a model of order, and her needle-book which was in her work-basket up-stairs, was sure to be plentifully stocked with needles of all sorts and sizes.

So Matilda went up-stairs, tip-toed into her mamma's room, found the work-basket, the needle-book and a needle, which she carried straightway to her papa.

"All right so far!" said Mr. Turvytop, "but thread will also be necessary, little daughter." "Oh, yes," Matilda had not thought of that, but the thread was in mamma's room too; so she went softly up-stairs again; again she tip-toed into her mamma's room, found the box of thread and carried it down stairs.

"Very well," said Mr. Turvytop with an air of business, "now we have the tools, we will proceed to sew on the button. But first we will select some thread: Here it is in every variety; blue, brown, green; which shall it be, daughter?"

"Oh, black thread, I should think, papa, on a black coat," said the child.

"Perfectly correct," said Mr. Turvytop. "uniformity of color. Ahem! Yes. Very desirable; and here is the article in perfection; Good, strong, black thread, which will defy every effort to detach my coat button a second time. But there seems to be something wrong with this needle, Matilda. It resists all my efforts to thread it."

"Bite the end, papa," said Matilda.

Mr. Turvytop bit the end, but succeeded no better than before.

"Fuzz it out, papa," continued the child interestedly.

Mr. Turvytop fuzzed it, or tried to, according to directions, but all in vain.

Then Matilda wanted to try. She had begun to do patchwork, and had learned to thread her needle beautifully.

"But you can't get this great thread through the eye of the needle, papa," said the child, as soon as she had taken it into her small hands.

"Oh, then the fault is in the thread," said Mr. Turvytop. "We must find something else;" turning over and mixing up the spools in a way that would have struck dismay to the orderly heart of his spouse.

But there was nothing else in black thread that would do at all; nothing indeed but some fine black silk, which Mr. Turvytop knew would be quite insufficient to hold the button.

Mr. Turvytop reflected, "After all," soliloquized that gentleman; "the color of the thread is quite immaterial. When a button is neatly sewed on the thread is not expected to be visible. Here is plenty of good, strong white thread, quite capable of holding the button, and which I think will go through the eye of that needle. On reflection, Matilda, I think your mother generally uses white thread when she sews on a button."

Matilda looked doubtful, but Mr. Turvytop proceeded to thread the needle with the white thread. But somehow it did not act right. In spite of Mr. Turvytop's most assiduous efforts the thread would split, and only half of it pass through the needle's eye.

"Something is wrong, I am convinced," said that gentleman, after repeated efforts and failures. "Daughter, I think the fault is in the needle. It was probably designed for a smaller thread. Once more you may repair quietly to your mother's apartment, and see if you cannot find a needle with a smaller eye."

The child obeyed, and soon returned, bringing the needle-book in her hand, that her father might this time make his own selection, thereby displaying a degree of forethought which Mr. Turvytop considered quite in advance of her years.

There was no needle to be found, however, with an eye large enough to admit the passage of the coarse black thread, except the darning-needle, which Mr. Turvytop knew would not do at all. He was well aware that it would be very unworkmanlike to sew on a button with a darning-needle. But after several trials a needle was found which Mr. Turvytop threaded with the white cotton with perfect ease, and that gentleman breathed a sigh or relief.

"There is nothing like having plenty of thread when one sews on a button," said Mr. Turvytop, as he pulled about two yards through the eye, doubled it, and tied a large knot in the end. "There, daughter! every obstacle is now overcome, and we will have this button on in a trice," said Mr. Turvytop.

But the button did not seem to want to be sewed on, for it kept slipping out of Mr. Turvytop's fingers, and twice it rolled quite across the room.

"There is something here that I do not quite understand," said Mr. Turvytop, stroking his beard and looking puzzled, as Matilda measured her length upon the carpet, while with the handle of the feather duster she tried to poke the button from beneath the secretary. "There must be some arrangement for holding a button in place while it is being sewed on. Did you see anything in the work-basket, daughter, which would answer that purpose?"

Matilda, having recovered the button, replied that she did not, but thought she could hold it on while Mr. Turvytop sewed.

"The very thing!" exclaimed the delighted parent. "Daughter, that little head of yours is worth as much to plan as my fingers are to execute. Between us both, this button will soon be firmly fixed in its proper position."

But just at that junction the needle slipped and went right into one of Matilda's poor little fingers. Of course she cried out with pain and dropped the button.

Whether Mr. Turvytop picked it up or not, he was unable to say. For a few moments that gentleman's habitual self-possession quite forsook him, and he was violently agitated.

Matilda must not be allowed to disturb her sick mother with her cries, and a bread and milk poultice must be immediately applied to the injured finger, as a precaution against lock-jaw to which Mr. Turvytop's family were predisposed. Not that any of them ever had the lock-jaw, but it was very evident to Mr. Turvytop that they might have done so if there had been any occasion for it.

When order was once more restored Mr. Turvytop prepared to resume his work, but ah! where was the button? It was not on the floor, where Mr. Turvytop had in his haste thrown the coat. It was not on the table, or under the table, or under the sofa, or indeed, anywhere. What was to be done? Mr. Turvytop wiped the perspiration from his forehead with his handkerchief and reflected.

Finally it occurred to him that one of the other buttons might be spared to take the place of the missing one. The top one, perhaps, which he seldom had occasion to use. So with his knife he carefully removed that button, congratulating himself on the neatness and dispatch with which it was accomplished. Then, unassisted, he recommenced the task of sewing on the button. In trying various expedients for holding the troublesome button in position, he finally hit upon the plan of placing it against his knee. That seemed to work admirably, and Mr. Turvytop felt that his troubles were substantially over; sewing on the button would now be a comparatively simple affair.

One stitch! So far so good—but what could all the thread; it did not draw through properly. Something was evidently wrong with the thread. It seemed determined to tie itself up into knots.

Matilda thought it might be too long, so Mr. Turvytop shortened it, and found it an improvement. Then Mr. Turvytop took another stitch, and drew the thread without difficulty. How many stitches would be required? Matilda did not know: so Mr. Turvytop thought best to examine the button to see how firm it had already become. He raised his coat from his knee, and the button fell to the floor. Astonishing! A close examination proved, however, that Mr. Turvytop had simply taken two stitches through the coat without affecting the button at all.

Mr. Turveytop sighed! He was becoming more and more convinced that it was a great thing to sew on a button. Still he did not despair. Mr. Turvytop was not the man to be discouraged by trifles. Again he placed the button in position; once more he pressed it against his knee, and the closely compressed lips of Mr. Turvytop would have proved to the bystander—if there had been any besides Matilda—his determination that this time his stitch should affect the button as well as the coat.

And we are happy to assert that at length his persistent efforts were crowned with success. The button was on! Sewed on! And Mr. Turvytop had done it!

Matilda was afraid the white thread was going to show; but Mr. Turvytop thought not, at least after it had been worn awhile and become soiled.

"There, my daughter!" said Mr. Turvytop, triumphantly, "that button is on! It has taken time to be sure—two hours precisely, by the clock—but it has been time well spent. We have both of us had an opportunity to learn some valuable lessons.

We have learned what a great thing it is to sew on a button. If it is such a great thing to sew on a button; then consider what it must be to make a whole coat; and then realize how thankful I should be for my coat.

Again, we have learned that almost anything can be accomplished by patient perseverance.

Again, we have felt the blessedness of having been able to assist your dear mother.

Yes dear, yes. I know you have been injured, but it must be a satisfaction to suffer in so good a cause.

"But I must now leave you for a short time. I have just time to go to the postoffice before tea. I take a great deal of pleasure in putting on this coat," continued Mr. Turvytop, as he donned the garment in question, "feeling that it has been repaired by my own hands, assisted by the active brain of my daughter." The air is keen but I shall not feel it, for with this warm coat, snugly buttoned over my chest—what!—what, what, what!"—and Mr. Turvytop did not button his coat as he seemed about to do, but stood looking at it with a strange, puzzled expression on his face, from which the exultation of the previous moment had all passed.

"Why, papa, what is it?" asked Matilda.

"Daughter," replied Mr. Turvytop in a subdued tone, "we have made a mistake; a sad mistake; a very sad mistake; we have sewed this button on the inside of the coat."

Mr. Turvytop went to the postoffice with his Sunday coat on, with the collar turned up about his ears.

Mrs. Turvytop recovered in due course of time, and when she could collect the scattered contents of her work basket, set about repairing Mr. Turvytop's coat,—darning the hole that gentleman had made in cutting off the top button, and restoring the severed member to its place, also replacing the missing button for which Mr. Turvytop sought so long and vainly, and which Bridget afterwards discovered in the bread jar; and, finally, advising Mr. Turvytop if he ever lost another button not to go and make a fool of himself.

Mr. Turvytop preserved a dignified silence, but has never been known to sew on another button.—[Hartford Post.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething,

gently facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience. AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

REASONS

WHY YOU SHOULD PREFER TO INSURE

WITH THE OLD

INSURANCE CO. OF NORTH AMERICA

PHILADELPHIA.

1. It is the Oldest Insurance Company in America,—having commenced business in 1794—and therefore entitled to your confidence on the score of Stability.

2. It has done a successful business for eighty years, thereby demonstrating the ability of its management.

3. It has uniformly maintained during its long career, the Highest Reputation for Integrity and Honorable Dealing, justifying thereby, full faith that your rights will receive fair and liberal protection.

4. It has paid Losses in cash, exceeding Thirty Million Dollars, without the deduction of a cent, or a day's delay—a sufficient evidence of the Wealth of its Resources, as well as disposition to meet promptly all liabilities.

5. It has a Cash Capital and Surplus of over $1,700,000, securely invested—an ample GUARANTEE AGAINST DISASTER, in the event of unusual and extraordinary losses, which have often swept away companies of limited means.

6. It insures all the better classes of property on Liberal Terms, for long or short periods, and settles all honest claims for losses, Promptly and Equitably, at the Agency where the Insurance is effected—observing in all its business relations, the Golden Rule.

Testimonials.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the patent office.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: you procured for me, in 1860, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly,

GEORGE DRAPER.

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

THE ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best materials and instruments and aim to present not merely patches of landscapes from points chosen at random as is the case with many others, but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new cabinet size views taken this present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the stereoscope.

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home memento of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.

Interiors and exteriors of houses taken to order. Also parties, horses, &c.
